and seven others whose names are not known - (released)

and new names: Hajji Ali, shop-owner - (in detention) Sharif, an employee of the above - (in detention)
Abdul Khadir, 15-year-old youth - (in detention)

Amnesty International welcomes the release, on 1 October 1998, of most of those mentioned above. The organization is concerned, however, that four others -- Hassan Noor, Hajji Ali, Sharif and a 15 year old boy, Abdul Khadir -- are still in incommunicado detention, without charge or trial, in contravention of Uganda's constitution and laws, since their arrest on 15 September 1998. While there are no reports that the men released were tortured or ill-treated, there are concerns for the safety of the four who remain in detention.

At the time of their arrest by the Ugandan Anti-Terrorism Squad, working in conjunction with officials from the United States' Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), US officials said that those arrested were suspected of planning attacks on US interests in Uganda. On 24 September a Ugandan minister told a press conference that the men had confessed to being sponsored by the Sudan Government and to having links to Osama bin Laden, wanted by the US Government for the bombing of the US Embassies in Nairobi and Dar es Salaam on 7 August. This information does not appear to have been correct. The FBI personnel involved in the arrests have reportedly now left Kampala.

FURTHER RECOMMENDED ACTION: Please send telegrams/telexes/faxes/express/airmail letters in English or in your own language:

- welcoming the release of Sheikh Abduwel Abdullah Amin, Omar Ahmed Mandela and 16 others;
- expressing concern for the safety of Hassan Noor, Hajji Ali, Sharif and Abdul Khadir, who remain in incommunicado detention in an unknown location following their arrest in Kampala on 15 September 1998;
- seeking assurances that they are not being ill-treated;
- expressing concern that they have been detained without charge or trial for a period exceeding 48 hours in contravention of Ugandan law;

- urging that they be given immediate and regular access to family members, a lawyer of their choice, and any necessary medical attention;
- requesting that they be released if they are not to be charged with a recognizably criminal offence and brought promptly to trial;
- seeking assurances that Abdul Khadir is provided with all the safeguards for the protection of children contained in both Uganda's Children Statute (1996) and international standards.
