Further information on UA 309/94 (ASA 36/09/94, 23 August 1994) - Death Penalty

SINGAPORE Angel Mou Puipeng (f), aged 25, Portuguese citizen, resident of Hong Kong

Amnesty International has learned that Angel Mou Puipeng's appeal for clemency against her death sentence has been rejected by President Ong Teng Cheong and that she is scheduled to be executed on 23 December 1994.

Angel Mou Puipeng was arrested on 29 August 1991 in Changi airport, in possession of 5.6 kilograms of heroin. Her initial trial took place in the Singapore High Court between March and April 1993. She was found guilty of trafficking heroin.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Ah Hung (m), a Triad member responsible for recruiting Angel Mou Puipeng as a courier, was imprisoned for 4 years in Hong Kong for committing acts "... preparatory to trafficking in dangerous drugs". This illustrates the disparity between sentencing for drugs-related crime between countries, whereby the organizer of a drugs ring receives 4 years' imprisonment in Hong Kong, while in Singapore a courier is sentenced to death.

Amnesty International opposes the death penalty in all cases as a violation of the right to life and the right not to be subjected to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment, as proclaimed in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

The death penalty was employed in Singapore during the colonial period and was retained after the country became an independent republic in August 1965. Anyone found in possession of more than 15 grams of heroin, 30 grams of morphine, 30 grams of cocaine or 500 grams of cannabis is presumed guilty of drug trafficking and is liable to a mandatory death sentence.
